

General Partnership

Language Across Borders (LAB) Proposal

What LAB Initiative Is

A global event series that connects non-native and native speakers of Chinese and Arabic across regions. Our community is a growing collective of young professionals and scholars who are fascinated by the beauty of the Chinese and Arabic languages and motivated to be the future leaders of cross-cultural dialogue and diplomacy.

Our mission is to promote linguistic diversity by building a global community that welcomes all nationalities, backgrounds, and levels, and documenting their stories through Chinese and Arabic.

How Partners Collaborate With Us

We are committed to strive with like-minded partners from across the globe for shared goals — all related to fostering cross-cultural awareness through innovative experience design. Our partners include governmental and non-governmental organizations, academic institutions, cafes and restaurants, where we have seen diverse types of collaboration — sponsorship, marketing, venue supply, event planning, staff support, and talent outreach.

Through collaboration, the value-add we have delivered to our partners includes, but not limited to:

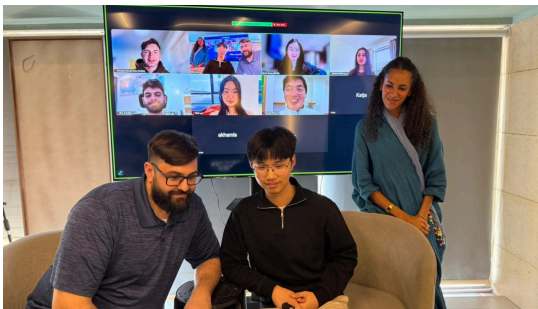

- High-quality Event Delivery
- Enhanced Brand Awareness
- Measurable Increase of Loyal Customers and Membership
- Opt-in participant data (on for sponsorship terms with full consent regulations abided)

While most of the collaborations are in a value-exchange framework due to our non-profit nature, we are open to a negotiable partnership with commercial suppliers who are interested.

What A LAB Session Looks Like

All LAB sessions include five elements: LAB Keyword, LAB Speakers, Open-Mic, Hybrid Roundtables, and LAB Ice-Breakers.

- LAB Keyword: A word in three languages (Chinese, Arabic, and English) to define the topic of the session and set the tone of it.
- LAB Speaker: We invite scholars and professionals from a wide range of industries and fields, but all of them are actively working across China and the Arab world, or in Chinese and Arabic languages.

Jan, LAB@Jeddah

April, LAB@Beijing

May, LAB@Yiwu

July, LAB@Dammam

- Open-Mic: A typical LAB session starts with a panel-like talk, where invited speakers deliver a talk sharing their stories or insights beyond the LAB keyword, followed by an open-mic that allows moderated interaction between the speakers and the participants.

Scholars Sharing Andalusian Arabic

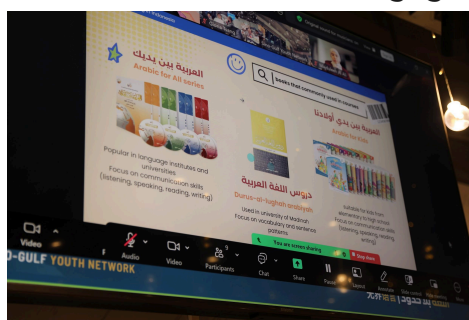

Social Worker on Teaching Chinese to Arab Expats

- Hybrid Roundtable: Rooted in the belief that modern technology can transcend geographical boundaries, all LAB sessions can be accessed both offline and online (via Zoom), while moderated by facilitators to ensure a seamless and engaging experience for our guests.

Online Breakout Rooms

Speaker on Arabic Education in Indonesia

Speaker on Middle East Studies in Italy

- LAB Ice-Breakers: beginner-friendly ice-breakers with open exchange sessions for all levels.

Networking Bingo

Kahoot Games

Culinary Culture Experience

What A SGYN LAB Booth Looks Like

April, 2026 - Beijing, China (Yenching Global Symposium, Peking University)

The LAB Booth is a signature engagement format of the Sino-Gulf Youth Network, featured at large-scale events where SGYN serves as an official partner or collaborator. As an interactive pop-up experience, the booth introduces event guests to the Chinese and Arabic languages through creative and hands-on activities.

Contact

For more information or to discuss partnership opportunities, please contact:
huayi@sinogulfyouthnetwork.com